

Dulliau ymchwil arloesol a chreadigol ar gyf- er ymchwil mudo – gweithdy ar-lein

10.00 – 13.00, dydd Mercher, 1af o Fehefin 2022

Mae'r gweithdy hwn yn tynnu sylw at rai dulliau creadigol arloesol sy'n cael eu defnyddio ar hyn o bryd gan ymchwilwyr ymfudo yng Nghymru. Mae'r gweithdy'n gyfle i glywed gan dri academydd sy'n defnyddio dulliau creadig-ol amrywiol i ymchwilio i wahanol agweddau ar fudo, ac i drafod y cyfleoedd a'r heriau o fabwysiadu'r dulliau hyn. Nod y gweithdy yw rhannu arfer da a myfyrio ar brofiad yr ymchwilwyr o ddefnyddio dulliau creadigol.

Siaradwyr

Dr Eleanor Cotterill (Prifysgol Caerdydd)
Dr Barrie Llewelyn (Prifysgol De Cymru) Laura Shobiye (Prifysgol Caerdydd)

Mae'r gweithdy'n briodol i unrhyw un sydd â diddordeb mewn dulliau creadigol mewn ymchwil mudo, ac mae wedi'i dargedu'n benodol at ymchwilwyr gyrfa cynnar, ymchwilwyr newydd, neu i'r rhai a hoffai ddysgu mwy am ddefnyddio dulliau creadigol yn eu hymchwil.

Innovative and creative research methods for migration research – online workshop

10:00-13:00, Wednesday 1st June 2022

This workshop highlights some innovative creative methods currently being undertaken by Wales-based migration researchers. The workshop provides an opportunity to hear from three academics using various creative methods to research different aspects in migration, and to discuss the opportunities and challenges of adopting these methods. The workshop aims to share good practice and reflection on researchers' own experience of using creative methods.

Speakers

Dr Eleanor Cotterill (Cardiff University) Dr Barrie Llewelyn (University of South Wales) Laura Shobiye (Cardiff University)

The workshop is appropriate for anybody interested in creative methods in migration research, and is targeted in particular towards early career researchers, new researchers, or to those who would simply like to learn more about using creative methods in their research.

Free admission via registration through [https://
